

Prenax Books

Prenax is pleased to offer our same high-level of customer service for your book ordering needs.

Customers can now manage all book orders, access real-time reports, and access summary invoicing through the same trusted source for subscriptions.

We can procure any book currently in print, and offer competitive pricing on both trade and professional texts. We have access to many book databases including non domestic material and can also order out of print titles, market data reports, special reports, continuations, and specialized directories.

Prenax will advise of new editions, out of print texts and will give you up-to-date information on the text you are looking for.

Our title range includes Business, Law, Finance, Medical, Training, as well as all the popular titles you would expect from an experienced bookseller. We also deal with many independent and small publishers, so no matter what the publication is Prenax can provide it for you.

Let Prenax's experienced staff research and fulfill your book orders from the appropriate source and eliminate employee time spent on these tasks.

Prenax offers a rush service for urgent orders and in most cases we can provide delivery within 24hrs. Prenax offers priority delivery and rush service at competitive shipping rates and will provide shipment tracking information. Our delivery service is direct to your desk, home, and business with normal turnaround of three to four business days.
